

C++ Consultants

Focus Capital is hitting new highs in its 38 year history and is looking for 400 new developers for 2015

We have 17 new projects that require 3 plus years of experience in C++ with UNIX and multithreading. We consistently pay the highest rates in the industry up to $125 an hour with projects in NY, Illinois, and California. All projects involve trading technology but don't hesitate to apply as technical competency is what we value most. We have launched thousands of long term careers for developers that are interested in the world of trading, portfolio management and finance.
